

Dear Sirs, I don't even bother to listen to music on FM, or Am radio broadcasts anymore, as the stations play the same songs, over & over & over, ad infinitum. No matter what the format, the country stations play the same tunes, the rock stations play the same tunes, etc., etc.. As far as I'm concerned, the FCC is so industry oriented, it's not even really worth my time to write this email, as the big broadcasters will just pay your way on some junkets, & end up getting what they want, anyway. I'm glad that there is some competition for the mega broadcasters, as I can't stand their arrogance towards my tastes, as they ignore it, as well as playing tunes that I'm tired of hearing every day. XM radio has no commercials, & I am willing to pay a monthly fee to ignore the mega broadcasters; a win win situation as far as I'm concerned...
